

Internship in solar PV data analytics

Company Profile: candi is a dedicated rooftop solar company for SMEs across Asia and Africa. We bring together international capital, through our Swiss-based platform, and local expertise in order to provide a unique offering to this underserved sector. In doing so, candi aims to have a big social impact, reduce carbon emissions, create jobs, increase energy access, and save money for small businesses in emerging markets. www.candi.solar Opportunity: candi is looking to recruit an ambitious and energetic intern helping to enable the effective management and operations of a quickly growing distributed rooftop solar PV portfolio in emerging markets through enhanced data acquisition, management and utilization techniques.

Do you have what it takes?

- Are you a strong and proactive team player?
- Do you have strong English communication skills?
- Are you interested in the energy AND data side of solar PV?
- Would you describe yourself as a highly analytical individual?
- Do you appreciate the value of data?
- Do you like exploring and leveraging technologies and opportunities of data acquisition, management and utilization?
- Do you enjoy working in an international environment solving problems across geographical boundaries and cultural varieties?
- Are you keen to investigate Machine Learning as an opportunity to leverage big data?
- Do you have or are you pursuing a degree in electrical-, mechanical- or any other type of energy related engineering or data science?
- Do you have residency or a work permit for Switzerland?

Workplace: Zurich, with flexibility for remote working. Travelling to one of the key markets (India or South Africa) to support the team on the ground is an option contingent on the pandemic situation.

Duration: At least 6 months full-time.
